6. Take a look at the menu provided in the “Reading” section in lesson 4. Using that menu, and the vocabulary listed below the menu, use pinyin to fill in the blanks and write a sample dialogue between a waiter and you, the customer. Be sure to include tone marks whenever you write pinyin.

Waiter: _____

7. Write a short diary entry about what you had for breakfast this morning, or about what you had on a recent trip to a coffeeshop or restaurant. You can mention where you were and what you had to drink or eat. Write about two or three sentences.

You may write either Chinese characters or pinyin for your response. If you write pinyin, be sure to include tone marks. If you write Chinese characters, be sure to include correct Chinese punctuation marks. You may use Google Translate to help prepare your response, if using vocabulary from beyond our lesson texts.
