UH West O'ahu all faculty and staff professional development workshops, Feb. 5 and 6 with renowned educator Dr. Joe Cuseo

Award-winning educator Dr. Joe Cuseo will host a series of professional development workshops on promoting a student-centered campus, and creating a culture of student success this week. All UH West O'ahu faculty and staff are encouraged to attend these engaging workshops designed to be inclusive of the entire campus community. Cuseo is professor emeritus of Psychology at Marymount College in California where for more than 25 years, he directed the first-year seminar - a core course required of all new students. He is currently an educational adviser and consultant for AVID - a non-profit organization that promotes the college access and success of underserved student populations. All workshops take place in the Campus Center Multi-purpose Room C208. Light refreshments will be provided. No RSVP necessary.

February 5

- 9:30-10:45 a.m. - Promoting a Student Centered Campus
- 11 a.m.-12:15 p.m. - Defining and Measuring Student Success
- 2-3:20 p.m. - Creating a Culture of Student Success: Inclusive and Engaging Pedagogy
- 3:30-4:50 p.m. - From Theory to Practice: Instructional Strategies for Promoting Student Success

February 6

- 9:30-10:45 a.m. - Creating a Culture of Student Success a Shared Responsibility
- 11 a.m.-12:15 p.m. - Acknowledging and Responding to Student Diversity
- 2-3:20 p.m. - Creating a Culture of Student Success: Inclusive and Engaging Pedagogy
- 3:30-4:50 p.m. - Pedagogy for Diversity: Teaching Strategies to Promote Learning about and from Human Differences