UH WEST O'AHU FALL 2008 APPLICATION DEADLINE IS AUGUST 1

PEARL CITY --- There is still time to apply for the fall 2008 semester at the University of Hawaii-West O'ahu (UHWO). For recently dislocated workers and high school graduates, this is an opportunity to pursue a career-focused, four-year degree in West O'ahu. The fall admission application deadline is August 1 with classes beginning on August 25. Financial aid and scholarship opportunities are still available.

UHWO academic programs stress the exploration of interdisciplinary studies, cross-cultural and international studies and communication skills. The university provides a variety of baccalaureate degrees designed to serve the state's workforce needs. In addition to many other quality programs, UHWO offers a Bachelor of Education degree with a concentration in Elementary Education to address the state's teacher shortage and equip future educators with the knowledge and training to pursue careers in education.

Offering the lowest baccalaureate tuition in Hawaii'i, personalized attention, flexible class schedules and an experienced faculty, the university boasts an intellectually stimulating environment in a supportive, West O'ahu setting.
