Case Study: EVALUATION
(100 pts)

What is the Assignment?

- Evaluate your Case Study’s Performance. There will be 4 sections:
  - SECTION 1: Grade your Case Study’s performance:
    - Include the overall description of your Case Study from development section
    - For each lesson objective, provide a grade. (include lesson objective)
      - Example – Case Study “exceeded expectations” for lesson objective.
    - Provide each “graded” scoring tool you used for each assessment.
  - SECTION 2: Demonstrate evidence of your Case Study’s grade:
    - Provide samples of your Case Study’s work for each assessment
      - Drafts of the assignment (First and final drafts of work if possible)
      - If no artifacts are generated for the assignment (i.e., run a mile) or not possible to include (i.e., bake a cake), then observation notes or images/videos of process are acceptable.
  - SECTION 3: Adjust your lesson plan as a result of Case Study's grade.
    - Depending on Case Study’s grade, how would you adjust the lesson?
      - Use the grades on each assessment’s scoring tool to pinpoint the challenges your Case Study faced and then suggest specific adjustments to the lesson to address that challenge.
      - Keep in mind that if your Case Study “exceeds expectations” for each lesson objective, then you would not want to adjust the lesson!
  - SECTION 4: Present your Case Study: Evaluation Assignment

Why are We Doing This Assignment?

- Evaluation Template

1. In this era of assessment and accountability, you will not only be expected to use effective teaching strategies to help your students to learn, but you will also be expected to PROVE that they did learn! Thus, all teachers, veterans and newbies, are required to collect student evidence that supports their students’ grades. In fact, showing that your students have learned has become so important to Hawai`i that it is part of the Educator Effectiveness System, (measures your effectiveness as a teacher) and determines your pay raises! So, knowing how to evaluate your Case Study is an important assignment to do for your future as an educator!
