At this point in time, you should own the skill of lesson planning. I promise that you will only get better at it as time goes on. This is such a foundational skill to effective teaching, and it is also such an important part of being excited about teaching. Every teacher has the favorite lesson that they love teaching!