Aloha,

I hope you find that we are building a strong community of online learners in this course. I feel that having discussion activities is a great way to develop dialogue between each other. Please use the Forum discussion activities as an area where you can post your reflections on the assigned topic, as well as read and reply to the thoughts and postings of your peers. As the instructor for the course I will be following the discussions closely, but may not respond to each post as to not influence others from sharing their views on the discussion topic.

Lastly I hope you get a chance to go back and view your classmates profile pages in Glogster. Not only is it nice to look at but you will have the option (if you choose) to work collaboratively in groups on some of the major projects this semester. So you may want to learn more about your fellow classmates as you may want to partner with them later on.

Next Steps: Next week we will learn about Meaningful Learning with Technology in the Classroom.

If you have any questions please let me know, Welcome to the course!
Aloha, Your VP
