

Kawehewehe

UNIVERSITY of HAWAII
KAPĪ'OLANI
COMMUNITY COLLEGE

NATIVE HAWAIIAN HEALTH & WELLNESS

Speaker Series - Fall 2018

Funded by Title III, Part F

Tues. Oct. 23
4:45-6:15pm
' Ōhi'a 118

Thurs. Nov. 15
4:45-6:15pm
' Ōhi'a 118

Mana Lāhui Kānaka

Dr. Kealoha Fox will present the publication of "Mana Lāhui Kānaka," a book devoted to the exploration of mana, what it is, how it is articulated, and its importance to Native Hawaiian health, wellness, and identity. Attendees will receive materials from the project, which is freely available online: www.oha.org/mana

Dr. Fox works with the Office of Hawaiian Affairs and received her PhD in Biomedical Sciences from the John A. Burns School of Medicine.

Ho'i Hou Ka Maui Ola:

Pathways to Native Hawaiian Health

This panel presentation will feature the editors and chapter authors of the recently published book "Ho'i Hou Ka Maui Ola: Pathways to Native Hawaiian Health."
'Imi Ho'ōla - Winona Mesiona-Lee MD & Assoc. Prof., Director of 'Imi Ho'ōla, Dept. of Native Hawaiian Health, JABSOM
Kākou-Collaborative Cultural Competency - Martina Kamaka MD & Assoc. Prof., Dept. of Native Hawaiian Health, JABSOM
Hula & Health: Medical Research Studies - Mele Look, Co-Investigator KaHOLO Project & Director of Community Engagement, Dept. of Native Hawaiian Health, JABSOM