The Makahiki season is a time of peace and a time of rejuvenation. The season officially starts with the rising of Makali‘i (Pleiades) that appears in the Eastern sky at sunset. Makahiki is a tribute to Lono, god of rain and fertility, asking for help with next year’s crops and for healing. It’s also a time to celebrate and engage in games and other festivities. Join us for a series of engaging activities during the Makahiki season.
