WHAT ARE THE STRENGTHS OF THIS COURSE?

(Please comment on anything concerning the course, instructor, content, technology, personal issues, etc...)

Its self learning and a bit quite difficult if you fall behind. But our professor always send us a reminder when things are due. He does a weekly reminder.

The strengths are the interactive tutorials and Mr. Kamida's lectures on youtube. They are very helpful and it feels like you are taking the class in person vs. an online class.

the strengths of this course is that we are able to work at home instead of traveling to school. Also we get to gain alot of knowledge about accounting by using the hw and quizzes and also the interactive videos.

Instructions are very clear, unlike other online courses I have taken.

Professor Kamida provides announcements often keeping the class up to speed.

He replies to emails shortly after they are sent! Awesome!

Has recorded lectures which makes me feel like I am attending a "live" class.

The strengths of this course are all of the extra resources available for you to practice throughout the course. There are links to the text book, links to video help during your questions that really helps me stay focus and saves me time from looking through the many pages in the text. The availability to log on to a web course from different areas of the day like at work or a library and a coffee house to do some work really fits in with my schedule. This course is a little tough but I know that I need to get more time in to get ahead and gain full understanding of the course objective. I look forward to the challenge that this course brings and I will be changing up a few learning styles to be more focus on this course and not the other course I have this semester.

I love how thorough the professor's video lectures are, they cover everything that I would question in a face-to-face course and he makes real life connections to make it easier to understand. Some of the content is definitely difficult to grasp, but the many examples help to make it more tolerable. I also very much appreciate how quickly Roy responds back via e-mail to any and all of my questions when dealing with homework or anything of the like. He is incredibly accommodating and is one of the best instructors I have had with both distance ed and face-to-face courses.

To get to know accounting because you will need to use accounting for all types of businesses. It is an online class which is great because I can just get up, turn my computer and watch the lecture and do the assignment.

This course lays the foundation of understanding for accounting principles and the general guidelines that accountants and financiers should be aware of. In the business world, these systematic ways of grouping numbers, listing expenses, balancing accounts, ect. makes it possible for people to be truly productive in their endeavors to make profits and lower expenses.

It's very self explanatory.

- People who take this class (his classes) can definitely be punctual and manage time along with learning about accounting.
 - The website, Wileyplus provides us three steps to understand each chapter, so it is helpful.
 - No in-class session.
 - He gives us a website to watch his explanations of each chapter

I really enjoy that Mr. Kamida has his own videos that explain each chapters in his own words that relate in a way that I will be able to understand

The instructor is available when help is needed for course, always free to answer questions. The instructor's instruction are very helpful.

You learn a lot about accounting

It goes a chapter per week so you have allotted time to prepare and do the work for the upcoming week. It also has references to the textbook to help you complete the homework problems.

The great strengths of this course that i am experiencing through out this semester is that this class is a online class. The instructor gave us the organized structured schedule based on each week so i can be able to study more effectively and do my homework and take quizzes. also, the instructor was available on his office hour time without making an appointment. i was little afraid if the instructor wasn't there because it was an online course. however, the instructor was available and also email respond was always very quick. Moreover, the tutorial was available for this course and it was very helpful for doing my homework and preparing for the quiz. I would love to take more of online classes for my next semester because it is actually beneficial for my personal circumstance.

WHAT MAKES LEARNING DIFFICULT? (please feel free to comment on anything concerning the course, instructor, content, technology, personal challenges, etc...)

The videos are very monotone and boring to listen too.

I think what makes learning difficult is that you have to learn on your own. Although the key is to read, listen, and comprehend the subject, it may sometimes be difficult when you have to do it alone since this is an online class.

A downside to Wiley is that you have to keep going back and forth the screen to get the numbers from the top on some exercises.

Time management seems to make things a bit difficult but that is my issue, not a course issue.

Learning is difficult when there is no resources for help other than talking to the instructor. I don't have difficulties in learning, I have difficulty in the availability of time to practice or study. Most of the time that I have are during tired times or unfocused times of the day. I push through the sleep to gain the knowledge that this course has to offer.

All distance education courses have their difficulties because the student is put even more in charge of being responsible than an in-person course, but that would be a personal challenge. For me it is definitely hard to keep up with the readings because it requires me to look at a screen for long periods of time. I realize that I could have gotten a hard copy of the text and read it that way, but I do not live near Leeward Community College for the book with guaranteed access to WileyPlus, so I bought it through the official website and therefore have to read it online. I very much enjoy the video lectures even on the more difficult subjects, but the textbook is very difficult for me personally to get through on top of the content progressively getting more difficult. I've noticed that I do learn better through Roy working through problems than by reading about it.

To me, accounting is hard. It is difficult only when you don't enjoy the subject.

Learning in this class is definitely a challenge, simply because of all the time needed each week. In order to grasp the concepts, I must spend at least 2 to 3 days reading the chapter before going onto Wiley Plus to watch the tutorials, complete homework, and take the quiz. All in all, it is one of the toughest online classes that I have taken.

N/A

- There is no in-class lecture, so what you do by yourself, such as to watch his lecture on Youtube, read textbook, and do assignment on the website is everything you learn from this class.

- I can't ask a question right away when I have it.
 - We have to ideally use cabled computer.
 - Time management
 - More stuffs to do than in-class course

The massive amounts of variables that accounting has. Each type of account names and the fact that I have been trained that Debit is a Negative and Credit is a positive but in accounting it doesn't actually mean that its a negative or a positive number.

Personally its just a little difficult because this is my first online class I am taking. As far as instructor and course no issues at all.

It is all online and the online resources are not that helpful.

Being an online class, there is no teacher physically available to ask questions. It is mainly about reading the book and being able to apply concepts. It is hard to grasp the ideas when doing the homework because of how many blanks you have to fill out (debit/credit)

What makes me difficult from learning this class is timed quiz. The reason why it makes difficult from learning is because personally i am weak at timing. I get nervous when i have a task by a short time period. So, even if i knew the answers, i got nervous and couldn't answer them correctly. As a result, I have got unexpected grades on some of my quizzes compared to how much i spent the time on studying. So, the timed quiz is actually challenging for me to get a good grades in this course. Other than that, i love this class.

WHAT CAN BE DONE TO HELP YOU GET MORE OUT OF THIS COURSE?

(Please comment on anything concerning the course, instructor, content, technology, personal responsibility, etc...)

Better explanatory videos of the course since its an online class.

PRACTICE! Accounting is a very helpful tool in life. If you understand what to do in the course and can apply it at a job, you'll be set.

Nothing really im actually enjoying the class as it is.

I enjoy the youtube lectures so perhaps supplemental videos to provide even more substance to each chapter would be nice. I would like to SEE the ACTUAL homework presented and completed by the professor. Perhaps set the due date for the HW a few days earlier to allow the professor time to record and show before the test. Or even have a 1-hr 1-day/wk live session where we could ask questions as the HW is demonstrated. I do many work related event this way and they are always productive.

Overall, best online course I have taken yet!

This course has many useful resources that help you through this course. The only thing I think that can help me get more out of this course is to have a step by step guide and a checklist of practices that help learn the objective. For me a guided checklist helps me stay on track and clear of learning objection.

In all honesty I believe that the only thing for me to get more out of this course would be for myself to improve on my studying skills and being more timely in accordance to the course schedule. I have a difficult time time managing when to get things completed when my face-to-face classes become demanding, so there isn't any much to comment about rather than for me to improve myself. I very much enjoy this course.

I guess you could keep practice on the assignment until you get it. There is nothing bad about this course.

Mr. Kamida has done very well by providing us with many resources in addition to an awesome textbook and the WileyPlus portal. If anything was to be improved, I would recommend more interaction between the students by utilizing the MESSAGE BOARD as well as a Chat Room or some where that we can share our thoughts and confusions!

It's perfect the way it is.

- To meet with a tutor and instructor more often
 - More opportunities for extra credits ideally (we have already got some tho...)
 - personal ability to manage the time to do

For each chapter I watch Mr.Kamida's Videos and go through the Wiley Plus videos and then the HW then the quiz. For some reason I always do better on the HW rather than the Quiz. I wish that there was a practice or an alternative quiz that i could take to set myself up

It would be really helpful if we had practice exams. Or practice homework that would not go towards our grades but so we can continually practice so we can pace our understanding of the work.

To stay focused and ask questions if needed.

Extra credit is always a good motivation. There is always online supplement material to aid you if you get stuck or need help with problems. It would help to give overviews of what is "on" the exams because it is really hard to study for like 3 chapters and not know what material will be on the exams.

Personally, i am enjoying this class and learning more effectively than i thought. The instructor is always responding to my email quickly and he is available during his office hours. Also, because it is a online course, i can study whenever i am free; i don't have to worry about the attendance; i can save my time from stuck in my car on the road (since there are heavy traffics all over the island) Moreover, there are many resources that i can restudy from the Wiley and the instructor's lecture videos. So, i don't really have things to say to improve this course.
